

Your journey to cloud starts here

On-premise software has served businesses well. But times are changing. In this fast-paced world businesses need flexibility and speed to adjust rapidly to changing market conditions.

Is it time to grow into the cloud?

- Upgrading on-premise systems can be difficult, costly and time-intensive.
- Business works best when it collaborates effortlessly with other business units but integrating disparate systems is expensive and complex.
- Legacy systems weren't designed to support rapid growth and expansion. It's difficult to track costs and gain an accurate, consolidated view of different operations.
- Many businesses can't adopt new business models and struggle with compliance.
- Attempting to retrofit legacy system support to meet changing business needs is painful and expensive and sometimes there's no guarantee of success.

There's a cloud for everyone

Wherever you are in your cloud journey, there's a Sage solution that can provide your organization with the flexibility, scalability, integration, accessibility and speed you need to thrive, successfully addressing the issues above. We don't have a one-size-fits-all approach, rather there is a cloud service for everyone based on their needs.

Power and productivity from the desktop

Perhaps you want the power and productivity of desktop business management software, with the freedom and security of the cloud? We provide a service that is optimized for a hosted cloud that you can also run locally within your own office. The benefits are equally compelling, from managing and tracking complete product lifecycles, estimating, purchasing and sales orders through to costing and tracking, job planning and data collection.

On-premise hosting

If you're ready for the cloud but not ready to change your on-premise system, cloud hosting takes all the work out of running, maintaining and backing up your system software so you can focus on running your business and not worry about running your system. With web-based access to your data, you have anytime, anywhere access to accounting, sales, service, purchasing, and inventory management tasks. You'll also increase cross-departmental collaboration via an integrated management platform.

Dedicated pure cloud

A dedicated pure cloud service delivers core financials that are driven by powerful automation of complex processes and multi-dimensional data analysis with easy adaptation to the way you work. You can add further core functionality as your business grows and integrate with other cloud services such as Salesforce and more. Everything you need to increase productivity, make timely decisions, and drive your business forward is at your fingertips. And of course, you have anytime, anywhere access to all your data from any device.